

Imaginative Story - Setting the Scene

Where is your story?

Is it night or day?

What is the weather like?

Who is in your story?

What are your characters names?

Is there anyone else?

What are they feeling?

Where are your characters?

What are they doing?

What happens at the beginning?

What do they see?

What do they do?

Where do they go?

Try to leave the beginning of your story at a point that can get exciting in the middle.

Setting the scene examples

The wind howled through the trees, the moon shone high in the sky. The only sound to be heard was the leaves rustling in the brisk wind. Birds sheltered quietly tonight as the storm gathered. Small branches and twigs blew across the ground. The moon's light poked through the waving branches onto the woodland floor and occasionally lit up the small debris running around.

As the sun shone high in the sky, the water was as still as a sheet of glass. It was like a reflection in a mirror. The temperature had been so hot today that the sand seemed to relax as the heat of the sun set beyond the horizon. A gentle breeze began to cool the palm trees along the edge of the sand.
