Phonics/ Reading Weekly Newsletter

Well done for another week of home reading! Remember when children listen to stories being read to them by an adult or family member it helps foster a love of reading which will benefit them throughout their life.

For some groups this will be the last week of their coloured story book and they will then move to the 1st story of the next colour/level. This means as of next week the layout of the website will be changed to help you access all the different books of the next colour in order. More on this and end of year expectations will be provided in next week's newsletter!

This week's story is...

Listen to the story here:

Amazing Grace by Mary Hoffman | Children's Read Aloud Story
