WALT create our own characters to retell our own version of a story.

Let's think about the story of Jim and the Beanstalk.

- Did you enjoy the story?
- Did it remind you of any other stories?
- Was your prediction correct or did the ending surprise you?
- Are you left with any questions at the end?

This week we are going to retell our own version of the story.

Can you think of your own characters?

What objects could the Jim character get for the giant character?

Here are my new characters and objects:

Draw your own in your purple book.
