WALT publish our riddles.

Well done for writing your riddle!

Today we are going to publish our riddle so we can share it with others.

First we need to think of a title for our riddle. The title is what the riddle is called. I am going to call mine 'Who Am I?'.

Write your title in the middle of the top line of a new page.

Leave a blank line and start copying your poem on the next line.

When you have finished, draw a picture under it to show who you are.

Cover your picture with a piece of paper so the reader doesn't know who it is about but they can lift the paper to see after they have had a guess.

Remember to:

- use the correct letter formation in your neatest handwriting
- use a finger space between each word
- start each new line with a capital letter
- write 'By: Your name'

Share your riddle with your family and on the Year 1 Learning Wall.

Can we guess who you are?
