WALT draw a setting

The Little Mermaid

Today you will need to read part of the text below. The setting is beautifully described. Draw what you imagine this underwater scene would look like.

The castle was hidden behind forests of tangled seaweed, and guarded by fish of such curious and startling colours that you and I would gasp to see them. Its walls and turrets were fashioned from shells and crab claws and coral, and within its halls there stood a throne carved from an enormous pearl - and on that throne there sat a sea-king. He was a good and wise ruler, but a great sadness lay heavy on his heart: his queen had died, many years before. All that he had left to remember her was their six lovely daughters - six sea-princesses, who, just like their father, had no legs. Each of their bodies ended in a fish's tail.
