WALT write the resolution and ending to a fractured fairy tale

Success criteria:

I can use features of a traditional tale in my own writing

I can include powerful descriptions.

I can include correctly punctuated direct speech.

Today you will need to use your plan to write the resolution and ending for your fractured Little Red Riding Hood.

Remember to look back at the writing you did last week describing the characters and the cottage, include some of it in your writing today.

Also, refer to the word bank from Monday to help you as well.

I'd love to see some of your stories posted on Padlet too please
