Thank you to those who continue to contribute to our Padlet wall. It has been lovely catching up with you and seeing the home learning that you have been doing at home as well as photos showing other ways that you have been spending your time. We have added more pictures to share how we are spending our time at school too.

This is the real Arnos Grove station

I used an old coffee tin and a box and I decorated it inside and out myself. And here's how it came out.
