

Today is Thursday

This week we will be focusing on the book 'On Sudden Hill' by Linda Sarah

Today we are focusing on the actions and emotion of Birt.

Look at the picture below: (Shu and Etho are playing the same way Birt and Etho use to play and Birt is by himself feeling strange.)

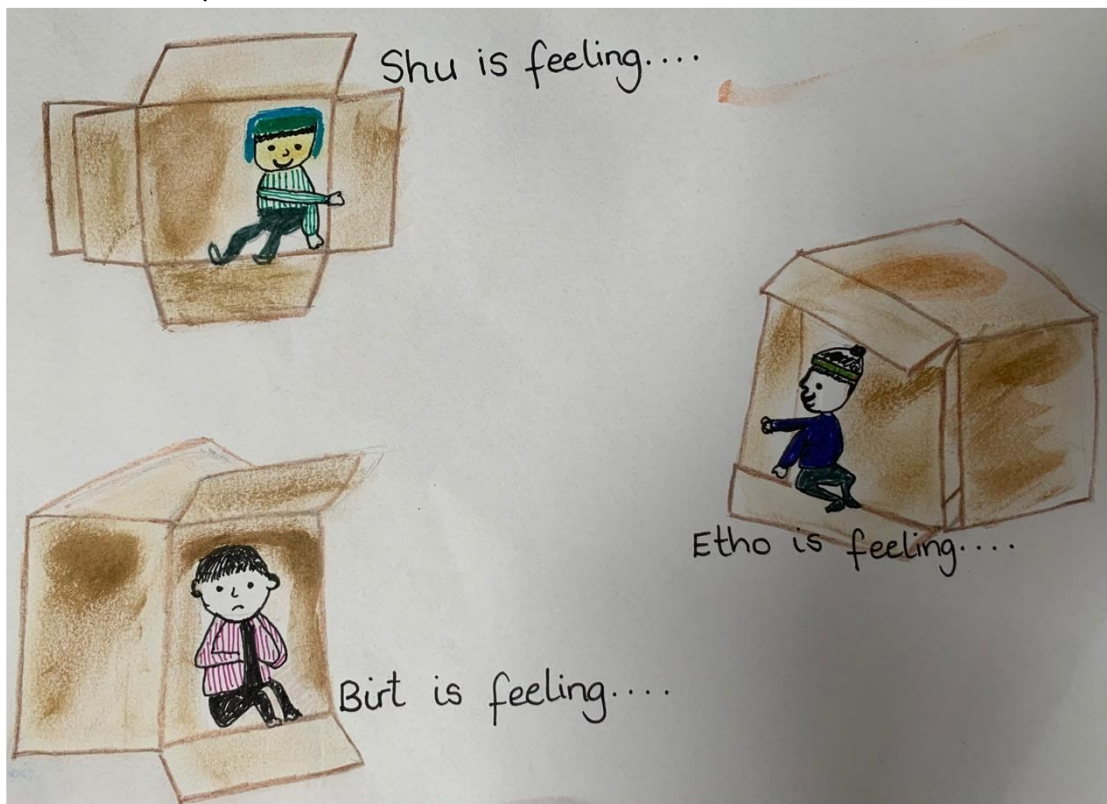

What do you think will happen next?
Discuss your thoughts and ideas with your adult and write your answers.

Bonus Question: Look at the freeze frames with Birt, how is he feeling? What action suggest this?

As promised here is my drawing for yesterday's activity of the boys in their boxes, with sentence starters.

Have you added some colour to your picture?

I used water paint to colour the boxes and markers to add to draw and colour the boys.
