

Today is
Wednesday

This week we will be focusing on the book 'On Sudden Hill' by Linda Sarah

Today we are going to focus on the frame below, discussing the emotions (feelings) the boys are showing/feeling.

1. Look carefully at the picture, focus on the boys faces, body language and position of their boxes.

2. Discuss what you can see with your adult.
3. Draw each boy in their boxes and write how you think they are feeling and how you know this.

As promised here is my drawing for yesterday's activity of what I imagined the boys saw. I have used my Fred fingers to help me spell my words.

Have you added some colour to your picture?

I used water paint to create the scene and markers to add details.
